

Invoices directly to Netbank

Netbank offers you versatile services for payment and monitoring of account data. The easiest way to pay bills is the e-invoice. It allows you to receive and pay bills whenever and wherever.

What is e-invoice?

E-invoice is an electronic invoice which is sent to your Netbank. It includes all the information you need to pay it, such as the beneficiary's account and the reference number. You do not have to key in all the data; all you need to do is confirm the e-invoice for payment.

Receiving e-invoices

You have an electronic e-invoice reception address if you have at least one payment account in Netbank. You can order e-invoices from your invoicers to this address. You place orders conveniently in Netbank either when you are making payments or by selecting the invoicer from a list. Your reception address is transmitted to the invoicer and in the future they send e-invoices directly to your Netbank.

You decide when and which bills to pay

E-invoices are sent into the Attention box on the Netbank front page. By selecting the invoice you can view the details of the invoice and change the payment details. When you have confirmed the e-invoice, the payment is debited to your account on the due date.

Automatic payment

When you link automatic payment to an e-invoice, you do not even need to confirm the payment. You can determine a maximum amount for invoices and a period of validity for automatic payment. When the terms you have set are met, the e-invoice will be paid automatically on the due date.

No more forgotten or lost invoices

You can link an SMS or an e-mail alert to your e-invoices. If you want, you can confirm an e-invoice by replying to the SMS. You can link alerts and confirmations to your e-invoices per each invoice and invoicer in Netbank.

All invoices you have received are stored in the invoice archive for 18 months. You can search for the invoice details even later because invoices are kept in the archive organised by their due date.

E-invoices are included in the price of your access codes

E-invoice reception is included in the price of Netbank access codes excluding e-invoice alerts and confirmations which carry a separate price per message.
